ASRC Peshawar Test Experience

By Ahmad Khan | 20 April 2026

Aaj maine ASRC Peshawar ka test diya, aur honestly experience kaafi smooth raha. Socha yahan share kar doon taake jo log prepare kar rahe hain unko idea ho jaye.

Documents ka scene (Important)

Sab se important cheez: documents complete hone chahiye.

- Matric certificate + DMC (attested)
- FSC certificate + DMC (attested)
- Domicile

Yeh sab pehle se ready rakho. Wahan ja kar issue ho jata hai agar koi document missing ho.

Maine preparation EduSmart Academy se ki thi, jisse pattern samajh aa gaya tha.

Verbal section

Yeh part thoda tricky lagta hai pehle, lekin agar thodi practice ho to easily attempt ho jata hai.

Non-verbal section

Yeh sab se easy part tha. Simple pattern-based questions thay, zyada sochne ki zarurat nahi pari.

Academic section

Academic part bhi easy tha. Mostly basic general knowledge aur simple questions thay.

Kuch questions jo mujhe yaad hain:

- Pakistan ka official cricket league konsa hai?
- Islamic months kitne hain?
- 31 days wale months kitne hote hain?
- Hazrat Abu Bakar (R.A) ki beti ka naam kya hai?
- Prophet Muhammad (S.A.W) ke kitne bete thay?
- Madina Munawwara ka purana naam kya tha?
- Rising sun kis mulk ka symbol hai?
- Pakistan ka national animal konsa hai?
- Solar system ka sab se bara planet konsa hai?
- Water ka empirical formula kya hai?

Physical test

Physical bhi Alhamdulillah clear ho gaya. Agar basic fitness hai to koi issue nahi hota.

Overall test mushkil nahi hai. Log zyada tension le lete hain, lekin agar thodi si preparation ho aur confidence ho to easily ho jata hai.

Experience#4

Muhammad Huzaifa PMA Long Course 158 – Initial Test Experience

Alhamdulillah, I cleared my PMA initial test and wanted to share a short experience so it can help others who are going for the test.

To be honest, the paper was not hard overall. A person who has done normal preparation can attempt it easily. The only thing needed is focus and a calm mind. And all my Fellows who practiced through etesting website of EduSmart Easily can manage time. And also thanku sir for your time for us in these days, Maximum paper is from special verbal and non verbal lectures.

Verbal Portion:

This section was the most challenging for me. A lot of questions were based on relationships like older, younger, brother, sister, uncle, and similar comparisons. Number sequences also came in good quantity, and that part needs proper practice because it can confuse you during the test. Most of the verbal part was according to the common pattern, so anyone who has practiced well can handle it.

Non-Verbal Portion:

This section was quite easy. The exact figures were not the same as preparation material, but the logic and style were similar. If someone understands the pattern of shapes, missing figures, and sequences, then this part is simple.

Academic Portion:

The academic part was easy and mostly based on basic concepts. There were several synonym questions, and they were a little difficult. Very little came from active passive or direct indirect. Questions from general knowledge were more than current affairs. Math was simple and based on everyday basic calculations.

Some questions I remember, and some similar ones students should prepare, are:

- Plane faces of a prism
- Rooh Ullah is the title of whom?
- Asad Ullah is the title of whom?
- $2 + 2 \div 2$
- 90% of 90
- 75% of 200
- How many months have 31 days?

- What is the national animal of Pakistan?
- Quaid-e-Azam full name
- SAARC stands for what?
- Currency of Saudi Arabia
- First constitution of Pakistan was enforced in which year?
- Triangle with all equal sides is called what?
- How many pillars of Islam are there?
- Basic questions related to wars and current affairs

My overall experience was good. The test is not as difficult as many people think. The main thing is to prepare smartly and not get nervous. Give special attention to verbal relations, number series, non-verbal patterns, synonyms, basic math, Islamiyat, and general knowledge.

With good preparation and confidence, it can be cleared easily, InshaAllah.

Experience#5

Usman Ali
Peshawar Center
20-04-2026
Status: Pass

Sir, Alhamdulillah I have passed my initial test. I am sharing my experience so that it may help other students.

Overall paper was manageable. Intelligence portion was not hard, but it really depends on practice. If someone has done enough practice of verbal and non-verbal, then it becomes easy. Otherwise time pressure creates confusion.

Verbal:

Sir verbal portion was not too easy and not too difficult. Some questions were simple, but some needed full concentration. Number series, relation-based questions, odd one out, and analogy were asked. A few questions were confusing because options were very close.

Non-Verbal:

Non-verbal was easy overall. Figures were not exactly same, but pattern was familiar. Anyone who has practiced regularly can solve it without much problem.

Academic:

Sir academic portion was a mix of easy and tricky questions. General knowledge and Islamiyat were more. Current affairs were also there but not very much. Some questions were direct and some were a little difficult.

These types of questions came:

- What is the deepest point in the world?
- Which is the smallest country in the world?
- Where is the headquarters of NATO?
- The Tashkent Agreement was signed on which date?
- If radius of a circle is doubled, what happens to the area?
- Which pass connects Pakistan with Afghanistan?
- Who was the first Muslim commander to conquer Sindh?
- What is the duration of one term of a Senator in Pakistan?
- What is the highest mountain in the Himalayan range?
- What is the capital of Kazakhstan?
- Which treaty ended World War One?

- In which layer of atmosphere is the ozone layer found?
- Which battle is famous for the trench in Islamic history?
- Which article of the 1973 Constitution is about Objectives Resolution?
- Who was the first Chief Justice of Pakistan?
- What is the boiling point of water in Celsius?
- Which scientist is famous for optics in Muslim history?
- Longest river in the world
- 75 percent of 200
- How many permanent members of the UN Security Council have veto power?
- Which Surah of the Holy Quran contains two Bismillah?
- K2 is located in which mountain range?

Sir some questions were easy, but some were a little difficult and needed proper preparation. Academic was not just simple basic GK. A student should prepare Pakistan affairs, Islamiyat, science, geography, math, and international organizations.

Overall, the test was clearable. Main thing is practice and confidence. Intelligence can be done easily if practiced daily, and academic can also be covered if a student revises important topics properly.

At the end, I would say EduSmart Academy helped a lot in preparation because it gave proper direction about the pattern and important topics.
