PMA-158 Experiences

20th-April-2026

Experience#1

Candidate Name: Ahmed Raza

Test Center: AS&RC Lahore

Test Date: 20 April 2026

My PMA 158 Long Course Test Experience

I prepared for PMA 158 Long Course from EduSmart Academy under the guidance of Sir Muhammad Faizan. My overall experience was good, but some parts of the test were a little difficult, especially the intelligence and current affairs portion.

I was a little nervous in the beginning because the environment was very strict and disciplined. There were many other candidates, and everyone looked serious. After some time, I became normal and started focusing on the process.

First, our documents were checked. After document verification, we were guided toward the computer lab for the initial test. Everything was properly managed, and the staff gave clear instructions.

Intelligence Test Experience

The first part was the intelligence test. This section was fast, and that is the biggest challenge. It was not impossible, but it needed quick thinking and full concentration. If a student has not practiced before, this part can feel confusing.

There were both verbal and non verbal questions. Some were easy, but some took extra focus. I remember questions related to number series, relationships, odd one out, and figure matching.

Some questions I remember were like these:

Find the next number in the series 5, 9, 17, 33, ?

A is brother of B, B is sister of C, then what is A to C?

Find the odd one out from square, circle, triangle, cube
If yesterday was Thursday, what day will tomorrow be?

What is 15 percent of 240?

Some figure matching and pattern questions were also a little tricky

This portion was all about speed. Even if you know the answer, you must answer quickly.

Academic Test Experience

After the intelligence part, the academic test started. This section was not too hard, but proper preparation was still necessary. Students who revise basic concepts can attempt it easily.

The questions came from English, Math, General Knowledge, Pakistan Studies, Islamiyat, and current affairs.

English Questions

The English part was basic, but students needed grammar and vocabulary practice. Some questions were from spelling, synonyms, antonyms, and sentence correction.

Some examples I remember are:

Choose the correct spelling of accommodation

Synonym of reluctant

Antonym of scarce

Choose the correct sentence

Fill in the blank with the correct word

Math Questions

The Math portion included simple calculations, but some questions needed careful thinking. A student with clear concepts of percentage, ratio, and algebra can do well.

Some questions were like:

If the ratio of two numbers is 3 to 5 and their sum is 40, find the numbers

Solve $2x + 5 = 15$ & Also Some Integration Question like one or 2

General Knowledge and Pakistan Studies Questions

This section included basic national knowledge and common facts about Pakistan.

Some questions I remember were:

When did Pakistan conduct its first nuclear test?

How many districts are there in Pakistan?

Islamiat Questions

The Islamiat portion was also basic, but students should revise important facts properly.

Some questions were:

In which cave was the first Wahi revealed?

What is the meaning of Tauheed?

Current Affairs Questions

I remember questions like:

Who is the current Secretary General of the United Nations?

Questions related to IMF and Pakistan

Questions related to Pakistan and China relations

This section showed that current affairs preparation is also important for PMA candidates.

Overall, the test was manageable, but it was not too easy. A student who practices intelligence daily, revises basic academic subjects, and stays updated with current affairs can perform well.

The biggest things I learned from this experience were:

Speed matters a lot

Confidence is very important

Current affairs should not be ignored

Practice makes the real test easier

I personally felt that my preparation from EduSmart Academy helped me a lot. Sir Muhammad Faizan explained every part in a simple and clear way. Because of that, many question types felt familiar in the real test.

The practice sessions, guidance, and preparation method made me more confident. This helped me stay calm during the actual paper.

My honest advice to all future candidates is simple. Do not panic. Prepare with consistency. Practice intelligence questions daily. Revise English, Math, GK, Pakistan Studies, and Islamiyat. Also, do not ignore current affairs because that part can make a difference.

Go to the center with confidence, stay focused, and manage your time well.

My PMA 158 Long Course initial test experience was good and useful. It was a little stressful in the beginning, but with proper preparation, it became manageable. I am thankful to EduSmart Academy and Sir Muhammad Faizan for their guidance and support.

Experience#2

My name is Muhammad Usman and I appeared in PMA 158 Long Course initial test at AS&RC Karachi on 20 April 2026. Before my test, I prepared from EduSmart Academy. I want to share my experience honestly so that other students can get a real idea.

First, our documents were checked. After that, we were taken to the lab for the computer test. Once I sat down, I started feeling a little better.

The first part was intelligence. In my opinion, verbal was better for me because many things felt familiar from Sir's notes. That gave me confidence. Non verbal was not too hard. Most of the figure questions were easy to understand, but still speed was very important. If you waste time on one question, then pressure starts building.

In verbal, I saw common types like analogy, series, odd one out, relation, and simple logic. Some were easy, but a few needed quick thinking. Non verbal was comparatively easier, but you still need practice because the time is short.

Then the academic part started. This part was mixed. Some questions were simple and some were unexpected. A few questions really made me think because they were not the usual easy type.

I remember one question about Sindhi first poetry name. One question was about price, like if 5 apples cost 75 then solve the next part. There was also a question related to Pakistan's most important cotton. These questions were a little different, so I feel students should not prepare only from one side.

Some other questions I remember:

If 5 apples cost 75 rupees, what will be the cost of 8 apples

Who is known as the founder of modern chemistry

Which pass connects Pakistan with Afghanistan

What is the meaning of Tauheed

Who was the first Governor General of Pakistan

Which river is called the sorrow of Bengal

A train travels 60 kilometers in 1 hour 30 minutes. What is its speed per hour

If the ratio of boys and girls in a class is 3 to 2 and total students are 25, how many boys are there

Which country has the largest Muslim population

Who wrote the national anthem of Pakistan

A few questions felt a little difficult for me, especially because they needed both knowledge and calm thinking. Some of the tougher type questions were like these:

If the price of an item increases by 20 percent and then decreases by 20 percent, is the final price the same or different

If yesterday was two days before Monday, what day is today

Which important event is linked with 28 May in Pakistan

Which organization gives financial support programs to countries like Pakistan

What is the capital of Kazakhstan

These were not impossible, but in the test environment even a simple question can feel hard if you get nervous.

My honest opinion is that the paper was manageable, but not something you should take lightly. If your preparation is weak, then current affairs, GK, and tricky math can create confusion. For me, verbal intelligence was easier because of practice. Non verbal was also okay. Academic part had a few surprising questions, so I think broad preparation helps a lot.

One more thing I want to say is that confidence matters a lot. In the beginning I was nervous, but once the test started, I tried to stay calm and keep moving. That helped me. If someone gets stuck on one question again and again, then time gets wasted.

Practice intelligence daily, especially verbal. Do not ignore non verbal. Revise Pakistan studies, Islamiat, basic math, and current affairs. Also prepare mixed factual questions because sometimes paper includes things that are not very common.

Overall, my experience was good. The test was not too easy and not too hard. It was balanced, but preparation was definitely needed. I am thankful to EduSmart Academy and Sir

Muhammad Faizan because the preparation and notes helped me a lot, especially in the intelligence portion.
